2025 END OF YEAR REPORT

Thanks to your faithfulness, prayers, and generosity, 24:14 World has seen the Gospel of Jesus Christ touch more than 30 nations this past year. True to our name and calling, we continue striving to see a living witness established for Christ among every tribe, nation, and language—until the day He comes back as foretold by the Apostles and Prophets.

Building The Team

Under the leadership of our President & CEO, Kishor Pandagade, our family team has expanded and knit even more closely together in 2025. Bo and Marlou Barredo, co-founders of Advancing Native Missions with Carl A. Gordon back in 1992, joined our team as Global Ambassadors for 24:14 World, thus reuniting Cynthia Finley, past President of Christian Aid Mission, Carl A. Gordon, past President of ANM, and the Barredos, with Bo, having served as President of ANM after Carl A. Gordon.

Now all three are back together again continuing to promote the vision handed down to them by Dr. Bob Finley and working side-by-side in common heartfelt service to our overseas Brethren. In every way, the ministry is positioned for meaningful growth in the year ahead. Especially now that these three elders of native missions have come together again in joy and good effort.

In The United States

There are two ways that 24:14 World endeavors to reach those who have not had a chance to hear the Gospel. These two thrusts have been the strategy from the time when Dr. Bob Finley started both ventures under the names Christian Aid Mission and International Students, Inc. His vision was two-fold, one, to find ministries overseas who are known for their actions and the blessing of the Holy Spirit and, two, to find those students here in the USA who are hungry for a knowledge of Christ — so they can take the message back home with them when they return. Both concepts were revolutionary in their day, and both concepts still work with great effect, today.

MADELINE TROTMAN

So, as an example of the student focus here in the USA, we are grateful for the work of Madeline Trotman and Satish Mose who are influencing two of the most populated nations on earth — China and India — through their ministry to university students. Madeline has been serving the Lord in this capacity for nearly 50 years and she has seen many success stories that have changed the course of nations. This quiet ministry, perhaps almost camouflaged, has resulted in true conversions and tremendous consequences for all. Madeline continues this one-on-one discipleship and outreach technique with students from China and many other nations. Because of her steady love and obedience, many have returned home carrying the Gospel with them.

But

...it is very difficult once someone of another faith, whether Hindu or Muslim, goes back home as a Christian because they most certainly will be ostracized, threatened, and physically attacked.

This reality Madeline has navigated, all these years, with gentleness and patience. It is the Lord whom these new believers cling to, and it is Madeline who has been the one steadying them for the venture.

Satish and his family host and disciple a growing community of international students through their home and church each week. The Lord is bringing many to obedience in Christ through their simple hospitality and faithful witness. Their daughter, Hannah, has launched a weekly prayer and Bible study at her charter school, drawing more than 70 students. We see benefits to this approach to evangelism and wish the churches would see the harvest field in their own midst right outside their own doors.

Joy

We ask you to take a moment for a special prayer for those who have gone back to China and India, especially, where expressions of faith are increasingly suppressed.

Beyond Our Borders

This year, 24:14 World began partnerships with new ministries serving in some of the most challenging regions of the world — including Laos, Cambodia, Thailand, Nepal, India, Iran and Bhutan. These nations represent significant opportunities to strengthen and disciple believers, encourage emerging church leaders, and support new church-planting efforts.

In recent months, Mr. Pandagade has traveled to Indonesia, Malaysia, India, the Philippines, and Mexico, teaching and equipping the next generation of Christian leaders. His trips as President of 24:14 World have given him greater access to world leaders and pastoral organizations that would have been closed to him previously. Kishor's vetting of new ministries follows in the long history of Carl and Bo as they once traveled the world, in the same way, finding the jewels of the Lord's Kingdom at work and with very little support to do so.

Bo and Marlou Barredo, as 24:14 World's exclusive Global Ambassadors, continue traveling the world on behalf of brothers and sisters ministering in difficult environments. It is always a joy for them to see the Lord's blessings made available to those who have put everything on the line to serve Him. With your help, they are able to supply encouragement and essential assistance as they raise up future leaders. They have been doing this for decades and

Desperate Needs

Quietly, for many years, 24:14 World's co-workers have been working, behind the scenes, helping rescue believers facing imminent physical threat from the Taliban, ISIS, and many other hostile groups. Through the specific financial help of our donors, we have been able to effectively find safe refuge in welcoming nations for many. But this requires a courage that is not easily found because of how aggressive and violent these situations have become.

As a case in point, we have rescued four young girls from Boko Haram whom we have continued to care for and who now have a new life, after the horrors of their captivity and enslavement, in the United States. There are many others.

With financial help, we are looking ahead to making a greater effort with new resources dedicated to those suffering across the Horn of Africa and Nigeria.

Commitment to Accountability

In 2025, 24:14 World was accepted into membership with the Evangelical Council for Financial Accountability (ECFA). This marks an important milestone and affirms our desire to steward every gift with integrity, transparency, and excellence. The guidelines of this organization call for stringent accountability.

Any organization that can display the ECFA icon has been extremely well vetted and found solid.

Partnership in the Work

In closing this report, we thank you for your ongoing love, obedience to Christ, and shared commitment to His Kingdom. And as the Lord leads, we ask you to prayerfully consider a special gift toward the operating needs of our ministry.

Looking to 2026

We enter the coming year trusting the enduring mercies of our Lord Jesus. We believe He will bless our dreams, our labors, and our witness. Thank you for standing with the native missionaries we serve — their trials and victories are surely yours as well.

With gratitude, faith, and expectation,

For 24:14 World Leadership,

Kishor Pandagade, President
